Says Every German Smiles Over Prayer Meeting in America

Captain Goering Pleads for Fairness in Estimating the German Situation—Will Not Tolerate Persecution of a Man Because He is a Jew.

Berlin, March 25 (AP)—Persecution of any man simply because he is a Jew will not be tolerated, said Captain Hermann Goering, minister without portfolio, in an impassioned address today to foreign correspondents in which he pleaded for fairness in estimating the German situation.

He also expressed the opinion that Jews and Socialists abroad were rendering their German friends a poor service by making unfavorable reports on German conditions or by holding protest mass meetings.

"Every German," he said, "smiles when he learns that on next Monday prayer meetings will be held in America."

While admitting excesses during the first days of the German revolution, he claimed the government had adopted most stringent measures, including the death penalty, for further transgressions.

The many excesses committed during the first days of the national revolution, he said, must be attributed to provocators in brown shirts. (The brown shirt is a part of the uniform of the Nazi party).

"There is not one person in all Germany from whom even one fagmail has been chopped off," the minister declared.

"It is true that some storm troops have been terribly beaten up on one of those days, but you must remember the terrible bitterness that has prevailed among men who have been persecuted for ten years. This is humanly understandable if they took justice in their own hands."

"The world must be thankful to us, however, that we have established order so quickly."

Will Not Stand For Persecution.
"I will not ever stand for persecuting a man simply because he is a Jew."

He continued:
"The strictest order also has been issued to all nationalistic organizations that under no circumstances are they to molest foreigners."

"Travelers from elsewhere coming here this summer will enjoy the fullest freedom and witness a nation proud of its resurrection."

"Jewish business men can continue unhindered. You who know how bitterly anti-Semitic many of our people are can realize what this means."

Captain Goering said he knew what was being telephoned and cabled, yet he opposed establishing a censorship.

He claimed that the excesses of the present revolution were mild compared with those of 1918 and 1919.

He was visibly nettled over hostility to the German revolution cropping up in a part of the world press.

"First one is alarmed, then angered, and finally completely nonplussed by reading what is written about us," he said. "But, on comparison with another period, namely May, 1922, one sees exactly the same kind of stories written about us as then appeared concerning the Fascist revolution in Italy."

While admitting on the one hand that some Jewish shops were compelled by nationalistic elements to close temporarily or even to display signs reading "but only in Gentile stores," yet on the other hand, he said, storm troops had protected many department stores and others against violence and enabled them to reopen.

"Proclamation abroad that Judah declared war on Germany," the minister continued, "may result in the German masses reacting thereto in a different manner from what the proponents desire."

Sees No Reason for Protest.
"What we are doing domestically is our affair and there is no more reason for protesting abroad than there is for holding protest meetings in Germany against, for instance, France's employment of black soldiers."

Captain Goering pledged untiring efforts to maintain law and order. "No minister in Germany," he asserted, "worked as hard or accomplished as much as I, upon whom the responsibility for the police rests."

"I work daily until late at night. As for you of the foreign press, I can only congratulate you upon the good fortune you had to witness these historic hours when the nation again found itself."

"As to visitors to Germany, all, including Jews, can travel unmolested."

He invited the group of correspondents to visit Edna Thaelmann, candidate for president in the last executive election, and others who are in jail to see that they are unharmed.

Joseph Sangi Fined.
New York, March 24. (Special.)—Joseph Sangi of Kingston pleaded guilty before Judge Henry W. Goddard in United States District Court this week to charges of sale and possession of liquor and was fined $25. He was arrested at 51 Front street, Kingston, in January. The place is described as a saloon, of which Sangi is said to be the proprietor. Pleading proceedings are pending.

Treasury Receipts.
Washington, March 25 (AP).—Treasury receipts for March 23 were $11,290,619.99; expenditures $12,298,884.64; balance $546,957,841.71. Customs duties for 23 days of March were $11,971,449.45.

Wets Invite Drys To Join In Solution Of The Liquor Problem

New York, March 25 (AP)—Fred G. Clark of Cleveland, commander-in-chief of the Crusaders, an anti-prohibition organization, sent telegrams to dry leaders today urging them to join the organization in seeking "solution of the liquor problem."

The telegrams were sent to Mrs. Eliza Boole of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, Dr. F. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon League, and Dr. Clarence True Wilson of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals.

"Today is the most opportune time in American history," Clark told the dry leaders, "to inaugurate proper protective legislation dealing with the liquor traffic."

"I therefore call upon those leaders who are sincere in their desire to prevent the return of the evils which existed before prohibition, as well as to eliminate the nation-destroying abuses of prohibition, to join with us in a solution of the liquor problem to the end that society will control the liquor traffic and not be controlled by liquor interests and liquor corrupted graft."

Meets Rebut From W. C. T. U.
Evansville, Ind., March 25 (AP).—Suggestions of the Crusaders that dry organizations join with them in a solution of the liquor problem met a rebuttal from the Women's Christian Temperance Union today.

Said Mrs. Anna Marden Dero, National secretary of the W. C. T. U.: "The wets brought about this situation themselves, and the drys are inclined to put the whole responsibility upon the wets."

Awoke With Headache In a Police Cell

Attended Show With a Friend and Then Had Some Liquid Refreshments and Ended Festivities Under Arrest—Three Arrested for Parking Cars Uptown.

Margaret Wells, 19, attended a movie show with a friend Friday evening and later she indulged in too much liquid refreshments with the result that she awoke with a headache to find herself in a cell in the county jail. She was found at 2:30 o'clock this morning intoxicated on Catherine street near Hasbrouck avenue, by Officer Keresman, who arrested her on a charge of public intoxication.

Later in police court the young girl informed Judge Culliton that she had drunk too much. She said it was the first time she had ever been arrested. The court took that fact into consideration and suspended the serving of a sentence of five days in the county jail.

Officer Harry Martin on Friday afternoon arrested three auto drivers on charges of violating the parking ordinance. Peter Rosenkrantz of Highland was arrested for parking his car on Fair street within 100 feet from the southern curb line of North Front street, and Arthur Palen of 169 Downs street, on a similar charge. This morning Judge Culliton stated as there was some confusion in regard to the parking signs that he would suspend sentence in both cases.

Kenneth Wood of Connelly parked his car on the southern side of John street, between Wall street and the parking grounds, for a period of 24 hours. He was fined $2 on his plea of guilty.

To Redraft Bill For Relief Camps

Washington, March 25 (AP).—Redrafting of President Roosevelt's plan to enroll 250,000 men in a civilian corps for forestry work was undertaken today by the chairman of the Senate and House labor committees to meet objections filed by organized labor.

A meeting of the Senate committee was called by Chairman Walsh who said the process of revamping would take several days. The House committee will meet Monday, with Chairman Connery ready to offer a substitute bill.

Labor's opposition, as expressed by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was directed at the provision for enlisting the unemployed in a "conservation corps," and paying the workers $1 a day.

Green assailed this as "regimentation of labor in peace times" which would demoralize wage levels. He wants standard rates of wages to be paid.

Members of the two committees gave evidence of strong support for the President's plan, but Connery was prepared to demand a pay scale of $5 a month for single men and $6 for married men. The bill also probably will be changed to make it plain that enlistment would be voluntary.

26th Wedding Anniversary.
Melrose, N. Y., March 25 (AP).—Major and Mrs. J. Warren Pond of Mountaineer observed their twenty-sixth wedding anniversary today.

The major, a veteran of the Civil War, and formerly chief game warden of New York state, is 90. His wife is 88. Both are in fairly good health. They were married in Rye, N. Y., in 1867.

U. S. Seen Using Its Position to Break World Depression

Washington, March 25 (AP).—Out of the Roosevelt administration's first diplomatic discussion on war debts there emerged today definite indications that the United States will use its position as the greatest creditor nation to obtain international cooperation to break the world depression.

The strategy to be employed took shape at a state department conference yesterday in which the United States talked with the first of its war debtors—Great Britain.

Those initial conversations between Secretary Hull of the State Department and Ambassador Lindsay of Great Britain are to be followed by long and careful negotiations before it can be seen how well the plan will work.

Progress, or lack of it, meanwhile will be carefully watched by many nations, particularly those which, like Great Britain, owe the United States large sums growing out of the World War and the reconstruction which followed it.

The administration believes the fundamental remedy for present economic conditions lies in international teamwork aimed at reviving world trade.

The whole movement to accomplish that end by removal of excessively high tariffs, exchange restrictions and other barriers of trade will reach a climax at the World Economic Conference in London this summer.

Just how far the administration is prepared to go in making war debt concessions in return for agreement to reduce the abnormally high trade walls is a question which probably has not yet been worked out.

In fact the administration has given no hint publicly that it would reduce the debts. In somewhat cryptic language, however, state department officials have indicated that if agreements could be made which would be mutually advantageous to the debtor and creditor there would be no hesitation about putting them through.

ADMINISTRATION HOLDS TO FARM RELIEF PLANS

Washington, March 25 (AP).—The administration through Secretary Wallace, boldly reassured to congress today its belief that to get anything done about farm relief, the executive officials must be trusted with broad and flexible power.

"Nothing less will suffice to meet the realities that now confront us," was the terse and uncompromising way in which the youthful cabinet member summed up for the senate agriculture committee the administration stand.

He stressed this direct utterance in the face of strong opposition among the committee members and farm organization leaders.

Wallace said:
"Congress has granted such authority (as that now asked) to meet the banking emergency. It should, in my judgment, do likewise in meeting the agricultural emergency which is so intimately interwoven with the banking situation and the industrial depression."

His words were in outright contrast with the testimony of the witness who immediately preceded him, John A. Simpson, president of the National Farmers Union, who said of the administration bill:
"It's absolutely impossible."

"SISIE" DALL'S BIRTHDAY PARTY AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington, March 25 (AP).—"Sisie" Dall was six years old today, and the White House took on a gay air for her birthday party.

A crowd of youngsters were invited to play in the new children's playground arranged on the White House lawn by "Sisie's" grandmother, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

There were swings hanging from rare old trees, sun boxes, a slide and a "jungle gym" for the fun outside and games planned for inside. Also lots of good things to eat.

"Sisie" whose real name is Anna Eleanor Dall and her brother, Curtis Roosevelt Dall, two and a half years old, are to spend a week at their grandparents' "house."

PLAN REVISED FARM BILL TO REPLACE ROOSEVELT IDEA

Washington, March 25 (AP).—A revised farm relief bill, compromising divergent views already advanced, appeared today today despite the administration's advocacy of its own sweeping measure.

The Senate agriculture committee called Secretary Wallace, of the agriculture department, to appear this morning in executive session. This was preliminary to what is expected to be a drastic rewriting of the Roosevelt plan.

No decisions have been reached by the committee, but Chairman Smith was hopeful that a satisfactory compromise could be worked out on the basis of his substitute plan.

VAN SCHAIK TO TAKE OVER FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

New York, March 25.—Supreme Court Justice Edward J. Gibson today signed an order authorizing George S. Van Schaik, State Superintendent of Insurance, to take over for rehabilitation the Globe and Rutgers Fire Insurance Company, of 111 William street.

Macy Challenges Bennett to Prove Tammany Charges

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 25 (AP).—A challenge to Attorney General John J. Bennett to prove Tammany charges that "the Republicans stole the election in Seneca county" has been flung forth by W. Kingsland Macy, young Republican state chairman.

In a speech last night in which he called upon Republicans of the state to organize in behalf of "better government," Macy renewed his attack on the Tammany administration, saying "the government of New York city couldn't be worse."

In reply to Republican criticism, he said, Tammany charges the Seneca county election was stolen.

"I'll catch that right here and now," Macy declared. "It is the responsibility of the attorney general to see that honest elections are carried out. If that election was stolen, I ask the attorney general to prove it. It is an indictment of him if such a thing was done."

Macy spoke before the Dutchess county Republican club.

Tammany's assertion that there is corruption elsewhere "is no argument," he said. "We can't accomplish our end by going easy on Tammany so they won't bear down too hard on us."

The greatest Republican opportunity now lies in the assembly, Macy said. Loss of the assembly, in which the Republicans preserved control in spite of the senate Democratic sweep last fall, would "take years to make up," he added.

Reynolds Will Case Becomes Tangled

Baltimore, March 25 (AP).—The validity of the divorce of Zachary Smith Reynolds, late heir of the R. J. Reynolds fortune, by his first wife, and his subsequent marriage to Libby Holman, Broadway torch singer, was sought of circuit court today in a suit for judicial determination of disposition of Reynolds' trust funds.

The suit, filed by the Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Baltimore, trustee of three trust estates payable to Reynolds, asserted operations of the trusts cannot be safely completed or continued unless the court assumes jurisdiction and determines the course to be followed in their distribution.

The court was requested to untangle the complications arising from the death of Smith Reynolds, who was found fatally wounded last July 6 at his home near Winston-Salem, N. C. The settlement of future legal technicalities also was sought in a court ruling.

The determination of the "validity" of the marriage of Reynolds and "Elizabeth Holman" on November 29, 1931, was asked by the petitioner in subsequent to the determination of "the validity of the divorce of the said Anne Cannon Reynolds from the said Zachary Smith Reynolds" in Nevada on November 22, 1931.

The rights of the widow, Libby Holman Reynolds, her son, referred to in the suit for "convenience" as "Zachary Smith Reynolds, Jr.," the first wife, Anne Cannon Reynolds Smith, and her daughter, Anne Cannon Reynolds, were asked to be defined.

The suit also asked a ruling concerning the provisions of the R. J. Reynolds will, leaving a portion of his estate to his son when he became 25 years old; a will left by Reynolds, a minor, in New York, and a North Carolina court settlement with the first wife for herself and her daughter.

France to Open Debt Negotiations Upon Ambassador's Arrival

Paris, March 25 (AP).—France intends to open debt negotiations when the new ambassador to America, Andre LeFevre De La Boulaye, arrives in the United States April 12. It was said today.

Action has been delayed until the new ambassador could become thoroughly acquainted with the subject.

A government spokesman declined to say whether the government was ready to grant tariff concessions in return for debt revision.

M. La Boulaye has been consulting documents and talking with experts more than a month and has become reasonably familiar with American background through his residence there and interest in the country.

He will address the American Club Thursday.

France defaulted last December 15 on a $19,600,000 interest payment on war debts owed the United States. The government of Premier Herriot, who favored payment, fell on the issue.

The French Parliament now is considering a resolution introduced a week ago by Deputy Rene Richard calling for the payment of the defaulted interest.

Ambulance Calls Here

The ambulance from Friday removed Mrs. Arthur Lahl from the Plank road to the Kingston Hospital, and Mrs. Antonio Novelli from the Flat bush road to the Kingston Hospital.

"Lost" Constitutional Amendment on Child Labor Comes to Life

Plan to Outlaw Exploitation of Child Labor, Proposed by Congress Nine Years Ago, Recieves Attention in Several States.

Washington, March 25 (AP).—A "lost" constitutional amendment has come back to life, competing in a small way with the proposal for repeal of the 18th amendment.

The revived "lost" amendment is the plan to outlaw exploitation of child labor, proposed by congress nine years ago, approved until this year by six states, and rejected by twenty-six.

It was an outcast step-child, virtually abandoned despite the fact that congress placed no time limit for its ratification, because it seemed impossible to swing back enough states to make up the necessary thirty-six.

Then surprisingly this year Oregon ratified, and also Washington and North Dakota. The latter had been a rejecter.

This week Ohio's legislature ratified, and then the supporters of the lost amendment sat up in earnest.

Perhaps the overwhelming ratification, in less than a year of the lame duck amendment had something to do with making the states amendment-conscious.

Foes of child labor give much of the credit for renewed interest in their amendment to Frances Perkins.

With others she, now secretary of labor, reported to a child labor conference in Washington last November a return of revolting conditions of employment in many industrial sections.

Then too, many believe unemployment has so heightened the effect of the competition of youthful labor with that of family breadwinners as to heighten social consciousness of conditions tolerated in more prosperous times.

Another agency getting credit is the American Federation of Labor which led the fight for the amendment through congress.

FLOOD NEARING CREST, NO SERIOUS DAMAGE EXPECTED

Evansville, Ind., March 25 (AP).—Despite light rains in much of the inundated district during the night, flood predictions were revised downward today as the crest approached the lower reaches of the Ohio river. Residents of southwestern Indiana, western Kentucky and southern Illinois who had anxiously watched the progress of the high water which drove thousands from homes along the Ohio from West Virginia to Louisville, Ky., expected the flood to pass with no more serious damage than further overflow into lowlands.

Downstream at Cairo, Ill., where the Ohio empties into the Mississippi, a crest only slightly above flood stage by Tuesday was predicted.

The Ohio's rise here had slowed to 1.5 of a foot in the past 24 hours. A high stage of 45.4 feet, a foot less than forecast earlier, was expected. Lowlands were flooded and crops damaged in the Indiana "pocket" district, however, and 92 families were forced to abandon their homes here.

FOUND FATALLY WOUNDED IN A BROOKLYN STREET

New York, March 25.—A man described by police as a small time racketeer and gambler was found fatally wounded in a Brooklyn street early today and several hours later two men were arrested charged with his murder.

The man, Elmer Johnson, 43, was found by a policeman with five bullet wounds in his back. At a hospital he told police two men in an automobile had shot him in front of his home. Patrolmen picked up two men in an automobile answering the description given by Johnson.

They said they were Earnest Snyder, 35, and Carl Christensen, 35, and were identified by Johnson before he died as the two assassins. Police said they found a .38 calibre pistol with five expended shells in the automobile.

Snyder was described by police as a speakeasy proprietor. They said they knew no motive for the shooting.

FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN DRIVEWAY OF COUNTRY CLUB

Philadelphia, March 25 (AP).—A well-dressed, unidentified woman of about 40 years was found shot to death today in the driveway of the Cedar Brook Country Club in suburban Cheltenham and police expressed the belief she had been slain.

There were two bullet wounds in her body, one just below the heart and another in the back of the head.

A motorist found the body and notified the club caretaker but left without making himself known.

County Detective Richard Reford found two .25 calibre shells near the body, together with the victim's handbag. The latter was open and contained only a $1 bill.

MAYOR CAREY'S CONDITION REPORTED SLIGHTLY BETTER

He is said to be apparently responding to the serum that is being used in treating the disease with which he is stricken. Mayor Carey is under the care of Dr. John F. Larkin and Dr. Frederick Snyder.

Unemployed to Meet on Monday

The Workers' Cooperative Association will hold a general meeting at the common council chambers at the city hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All the unemployed men in the city are invited to be present as this is a general meeting of all the jobs.

At this meeting the matter of making a work survey of the city will be taken up. The general ward committees have worked out a plan with the expectation of starting the survey on Wednesday next. Pledge cards have been prepared for business men, factories and householders who have been regularly employed to pledge work during the months of April, May and June to the unemployed. Each ward will be represented by the ward chairman and by the committeemen from each ward. In addition the presence of all other unemployed is desired so that they may be given instruction about the survey.

The ward committee will also report to the general body of unemployed about the central exchange on Thomas street at which place it is expected to conduct an exchange business for their benefit. Also, a report will be made upon the benefit entertainment to be given on April 6, to cover the cost of the scrip money and other expenses of organizing the exchange. As this is the first general meeting for over a month other reports will be made by the committee to the general body.

Drive for Greater Export Trade Seen

Washington, March 25 (AP).—A swift drive for greater export trade in the western hemisphere is indicated by the proposed reorganization of the Commerce Department's bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Authoritative sources said today that under plans practically completed, calling for a sharp curtailing of the bureau, the quest for revived international trade will be concentrated in Canada and the Pan-American nations.

The proposed set-up of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, which extended throughout the world under the direction of Herbert Hoover during the time of President Hoover, calls for four small divisions under a director and an assistant director. At present three assistants are provided for.

These four divisions would be known as Foreign Tariffs, Regional Information, Pan-American and Canadian Trade, and Domestic Commerce.

Then she counted the lot again, and a look of doubt came over her face.

"There still is something missing," she mused. And then: "I know what it is—it's the baby."

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "A Farewell to Arms." This poignant, tragic story of a love that blossomed in the mire and brutality of the World War, stands out as an exceptional screen drama, faithfully translated to the screen from the world famous novel of Ernest Hemingway. Frank Borzage, voted the best director in the picture industry for 1932, proves his capabilities with perhaps his finest directorial effort. And the work of Helen Hayes, Adolphe Menjou, Gary Cooper, Jack LaRue, and Mary Phillips stands out against this gigantic scene of a world at war. It's the heart-rending story of a nurse who falls in love with an American boy enlisted in the Italian army. When he has to return to the front, the nurse goes to a little Swiss village to await the coming of their child. Frantic, torn between duty and an overpowering love, the soldier deserts, and fights his way back through the lines to reach her just in time to see her die. Remarkable acting by Helen Hayes in the role of the nurse, and the splendid performance of Gary Cooper as the soldier, make this picture one of the most realistic dramas to be seen in years. Some of the war scenes are remarkable and the broken retreat of the Italian army after the disaster at Caporetto is a magnificent bit of screen photography. A picture worth seeing.

Orpheum: "Horse Feathers" and "Gambling Sex." The Four Marx brothers run through their foolish antics in this talkie, and offer an evening of laughs and foolishness. This time the action takes place in a college, and the plot is the disjointed tale of a college professor who seeks to save his son from the wiles of a college widow, only to succumb himself. Thelma Todd is also in the cast. "Gambling Sex" stars Ruth

Hall in a gambling story. Grant Withers is in the supporting cast.

Broadway: "Down to Earth." Will Rogers again scores a personal triumph in this story of a rich family that has so much money it fairly droops under the burden of it. The depression wipes out the fortune, and they are forced to give up the luxuries. Mr. Rogers, as the head of the family, shows them the way to happiness, and before the show is over, the family has learned to enjoy its loss in fortune. A bright, cheery play with a fine cast lending able support.

Tomorrow

Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Madison Square Garden" and "One Man Law." Wrestling and its allied sports forms the theme of this talkie that centers around Madison Square Garden. It's the story of two fighters and their struggles to reach the top rung of the sporting ladder. Jack Oakie, William Boyd, Thomas Melghan, Zazu Pitts, Marion Nixon and William Collier, Sr., are members of the large cast. "One Man Law" is an above average western talkie, with Buck Jones and his famous horse sharing most of the honors. Chapter 2 of the "Jungle Mystery" will also be shown as an added feature.

Broadway: Same.

Seventeen products, all grown on a single Georgia farm, were served at a luncheon in Atlanta.

Phillies Bank on Hitting Ability to Win National Flag

By ALAN GOULD.
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

For the simple reason that they rely on their hitting ability to win the long-standing gap at second base, plus the fact that they carry the heaviest hitting artillery in the league, the Philadelphia Phillies actually lead the faraway, trailing of the pennant for this spring. They haven't been on top since 1915.

The Phillies had to part with one of their most reliable right-handed pitchers, Ray Benge, to get Finn from Brooklyn, but Manager Burr Shotton considers it was the smartest and most effective deal he has swung since he took charge of the club in 1924. Finn is the best second sacker the club has had since Presco Thompson.

Made 1st Division in '32.

"With this added strength and the experience we gained last year in a drive that landed us in the first division, I believe our chances have improved enough to win the pennant, said the usually conservative Shotton. "The Phils proved last year they could play winning ball."

The 1932 Phillies finished a dozen games behind the Chicago Cubs but they demonstrated their ability against the stronger teams by winning a big majority of their games from two outfits finishing ahead of them, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn. They gained from George Gibson, Pirate chief, the compliment of being "the toughest club in the league."

A Promising Sub.

Shotton still has a problem in his holdout first baseman, Don Hurst, but he has developed a hard-hitting understudy for this emergency in Gus Dugas, obtained from Pittsburgh. With Dick Bartell at short and Captain "Finky" Whitney at third, the Phils' infield is not in the league.

The Phils may miss the fleet George Davis, now with the Giants after a great freshman season in Quakerdom, but Shotton is confident Chick Fullis, former Giant, will do as a replacement, flanked in left by Hal Lee and in right field by broad shouldered Chuck Klein, an all-American clouter. Klein, a 350 slugger, is the powerhouse of the team.

Stronger Pitchers

The pitching staff looks stronger despite the loss of Benge. Jumbo Jim Elliott, giant southpaw, appears to have recovered from the lame back that handicapped him last year. He hopes to repeat his 1931 record of 19 victories. Flint Rhem, one of the best right handers in the league when on his good behavior, is attending strictly to business. Freddy Phil Collins, veteran right-hander, and two youngsters who made good last year, Ed Holley and Roy Hansen, a southpaw, complete the probable starting staff. One of the best rookie prospects is Frank Pearce, who won 20 games for Nashville last season. Austin (Cy) Moore, obtained from Brooklyn, should be useful.

Virgil Davis, heavyweight backstop and .335 hitter, will do the bulk of the catching. He has a first-rate understudy in Al Todd, the youngster who came up from the Texas League to clinch a job for himself last year.

"One of the main reasons why we are stronger is that we have better reserves than at any time since I took charge of the team," concludes Shotton. "Dekker, Mallon and Warner are capable infielders and Brickell and Heathcote experienced outfielders."

Latest News from The Baseball Front

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 25 (AP).—Babe Ruth is one ball player whose driving power at the "gate" can be calculated rather accurately.

A crowd of 1,581, the biggest by far this season at the local park, turned out yesterday to see the New York Yankees' slugger pound out a home run in his first exhibition game of the year. On Thursday, when Ruth had not settled his salary differences, and did not play, only 500 fans came out for the Yankees' exhibition.

Vergez Hits Over 400.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 25 (AP).—Third Baseman Johnny Vergez, never considered one of the New York Giants' outstanding hitters, was leading the club at bat as the Giants came here for the first game of their homeward-bound barnstorming tour. Vergez hit something over 400 in the exhibition games on the Pacific coast. He got only one blow against the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday in four attempts, but that was a homer with one on base.

Most Promising Pitchers.

Miami, Fla., March 25 (AP).—The two best rookie pitching prospects in the Brooklyn Dodger camp, says Manager Max Carey, are Walter Beck and Thornton Schwenk.

Beck is the right hander from Memphis who has pitched well in exhibition games so far. Schwenk is a left-hander from Dayton with lots of stuff on the ball.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The University of Virginia has a 65-year-old boxing coach, John S. LaRowe, but hasn't the slightest idea of emulating the University of Chicago's example by retiring him under an age limit or for any other reason.

In the first place LaRowe is the "father of boxing," not only at the Virginia institution, but in behalf of intercollegiate punch-tossing throughout the South. He furnished the funds a dozen years ago for Virginia's first boxing team to take a trip to Philadelphia to meet Pennsylvania.

LaRowe was prominent in the developments leading up to the first Southern Conference boxing tournament in 1927, which Virginia won, and has coached championship Cavalier teams four times altogether, including successive title-winning aggregations in 1931-32-33. He's getting better with age.

Virginia's boxing record, regarded with as much enthusiasm as anything the Cavaliers have done on the gridiron or in any other sport, shows a total of 44 dual meet victories out of 64 contested in 12 years.

The Virginia fistfights prefaced their conference conquest this winter by outfighting the Navy boxers, coached by "Spike" Webb, 5 to 3, marking the first setback for the Cavaliers in their home ring in 14 years.

Question of Horsepower

The college athlete who finds it difficult at times to believe that consistent devotion to training regulations pays dividends, should lend an ear to the story often told by the late "Pooh" Donovan of Harvard.

As Frank Ryan relays the yarn, Harvard had a great runner working under "Pooh" who had been beaten several times by an athlete of another college. He went to the coach one day and said to him: "How is it that I train so faithfully and yet I cannot win against 'So-and-So,' who I know and you know does not keep the same training rules? Is this strict training of use to me?"

To which Donovan replied: "You have a 50 horsepower motor driving you when you run. He has a 60 horsepower motor in him. If you operate on 100 per cent efficiency and he operates at 85, he will still lick you. Your hope is to get him some day when he can operate on only 50 per cent efficiency. Then you will lick him."

Frank doesn't say so but let's assume the proper ending: "P. S.—He did."

Maybe They Knew Best

It won't make any difference to him when he takes up his new job as head football coach at the University of Chicago, but Clark Shaughnessy's record, as now straightened out by Lou McKenna of St. Paul, shows he did not play high school football or basketball before entering Minnesota and making a name for himself as a player under the late Dr. H. L. Williams.

It seems that they didn't sponsor either sport at North St. Paul high school until after Clark departed, in 1908. In view of Shaughnessy's later development as a one-man wrecking crew on the gridiron, high school fears may have been justified.

Rosenbloom Stops Godwin in Fourth

New York, March 25 (AP).—The man no one can beat when a title's at stake, Slapsy Maxey Rosenbloom, held undisputed possession of the world's light heavyweight championship today.

Recognized as world's title-holder by the New York State Athletic Commission since 1930, Rosenbloom settled all disputes over the 175-pound title in Madison Square Garden last night when he stopped the National Boxing Association nominee, Bob Godwin of Daytona, Fla., in the fourth round of a 15-round match.

A slim crowd of 9,000 saw the Harlem night club king floor Godwin twice in the first round, slap and cut him around in the second and third, and cut him so badly about the eyes that Referee Pete Hartley stopped the milling after one minute, 16 seconds of the fourth session, and awarded Rosenbloom the victory on a technical knockout.

MARLBOROUGH BASKETBALL QUINTETS WIN CONTESTS.

Marlborough, March 25.—The Marlborough Wanderers and the Marlborough High School Alumni girls' basketball teams traveled to Gardiner on Wednesday evening, March 22, and defeated teams representing Gardiner. The girls won by the score of 48 to 13, and the Wanderers captured the contest by the score of 47 to 27.

The Marlborough Lions Club won over the Newburgh Lions Club, 7 to 6, in the Newburgh Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening.

Intermediates Win.

The intermediates paced by Follette, who made 9 points, outscored the Wolverines 28-25 Friday at Comforter Hall. J. Bradford of the losers led that team in scoring with 12 points, highest individual tally of the game.

Don Brennan, the big rookie from Newark, made no little impression the first time he was signed by the Yankees seven years ago that only baseball will conclude the program, what they've been passing up all this time.

Morgans Bow to Polish Cagers at White Eagle, 29-31

Without strengthening their lineup by the addition of cage experts from the outside, Manager "Dolly" Tessio's Z. N. P.'s checked in a victory over the dashing Morgan Repealers Friday at White Eagle Hall, thus proving themselves in a class with the Green and White quintet whose manager, Dick Dulin, gave them the go-by up until this late period in the season.

Final score of the tilt in favor of the Zumpas was 31-29, the result of a spirited rally on the part of the Polish cagers, who were evidently underrated by the Morgans at the beginning. The Repealers, tied with the White Eagle boys at the half, 13-13, shot ahead in the third quarter and held the advantage until near the end of the fourth chukker, when Kolono and Kieffer collaborated to put the Tessio brigade in the van. Kieffer scored the field that won for the Zumpas and gave him the highest individual tally, 13 points. Next to him was Bill Kennoch with 11. Wes Hyatt caged 11 for the Repealers.

Ducklings' Game With Stone Ridge A Big Attraction

The first mixed game of the season between masculine and feminine basketball stars, scheduled for 8:45-21, Johnny Zeek collecting 24 of W. S. Hall, High Italia, Wednesday night, March 25, is creating much favorable comment among cage fans, and is expected to pack the hall.

That there will be plenty of action, fans believe, is indicated by the fact that the Ducklings are rated among the best in the state, and the Stone Ridgers, directed by Pete Bruck, are considered the semi-pro champions of Ulster county. If the attitude of baseball enthusiasts can be taken as indicating a crowd, the teams are sure of a capacity house.

Using the same lineup that recently defeated the Poughkeepsie Beekwiths 19-5, the Ducklings hope to overthrow the Bruck team which will have with it two of the Rockne Girls' stars, Mabel Wood and Violet Hale, playing forwards. These local flashies are expected to give plenty of trouble to the visitors, including Hattie Michaels, the girl whom Hattie Diddrikson said was the best player she ever opposed. Hattie ran wild against the Beekwiths, collecting 7 points.

Another star of the Ducklings is the center, Flo Nau, who is anxious to compete against Vince Knoll, pivot man of the Ridgers, a player hard to beat at getting the tap.

FLO NAU.

The lineups:

Ducklings	Pos.	Stone Ridge
F. Taylor	r.f.	Mabel Wood
N. Pearl	l.f.	Violet Hale
F. Nau	c.	Vince Knoll
H. Michaels	f.g.	Jim Merritt
D. Helwig	f.g.	Pete Bruck
M. Heengeler	lg.	Norm Niles
		Herb Van Deusen

Preliminary to the feature two biter rivals, Walt Foster's Knights of Columbus Five and "Dolly" Tessio's Z. N. P.'s will clash in a contest that promises lots of action.

The overtime will get under way at 8 o'clock and the feature at 8:45. Dancing will conclude the program.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Philadelphia — A very agitated masculine voice spluttered over the telephone to police headquarters: "My fido is loose. Please hurry." That struck the desk sergeant as funny.

"Put a want ad in the newspapers," he was advised with a laugh. "We aren't dog catchers."

"Dog?" screamed Constable Eddie Abrams. "Fido's 20 dog. He's a three-year-old Canadian timber wolf and he escaped from my menagerie."

FINDS PROOF OF LIFE IN METEORS

California Scientist Silent as to Conclusions.

Berkeley, Calif.—Proof that life—only living bacteria—exists on other planets is claimed by Charles B. Lipman, dean of the University of California graduate division.

Meteors, bombarding the earth from the unknown depths of space, have brought what Doctor Lipman believes is living proof that life exists on other planets.

Two types of bacterial growth have been found in the interior substance of meteorites, he revealed.

Although the California scientist carefully refrained from drawing any conclusions from his findings, it was pointed out that his research may help provide answers for two of the great riddles of the universe:

Is there life on stars and other planets?

Where and how did terrestrial life originate?

Two years ago Doctor Lipman reported finding similar micro-organisms in coal strata laid down 200,000,000 years ago.

Meteor fragments in which he discovered the bacteria were obtained from the American Museum of Natural History, the United States National Museum, and the Colorado Museum of Natural History.

The specimens were given a drastic treatment to kill any organisms that might have become attached to the surface or penetrated into cracks after the meteorite's arrival on earth.

Finally the specimens were transferred under sterile conditions to a sterile mortar and ground into powder, and this powder—the interior substance of the meteorite—was dropped into other culture media. Nine out of fourteen cultures yielded growths of rod or coccoid type bacteria. The meteorite substance, Dr. Lipman found, contained enough organic material to support life in a few bacteria.

THE NEWS-JIGGER

HERE'S YOUR SOLUTION

The News-Jigger on page 7 gave you the question, and here's the answer: Mary Pickford, whose long career in the films has been continued with a recent movie, from which this picture was taken. If your time in so-called news was 10 minutes, you did well. Don't miss the next one.

Astronomer Builds His Own Model Planetarium

St. Louis, Mo.—Stuart O'Byrne, twenty-seven, amateur astronomer, has constructed a miniature planetarium here of paper, wood, wire and parts of an old flashlight.

Construction of the planetarium, modeled after the $100,000 Adler planetarium in Chicago, took nearly two years. The model has a 3-foot half-dome into which a dozen persons can look at once.

The planetarium shows the movement of the stars, planets, sun and moon in their proper position in relation to the time of the year and the latitude from which observed.

The projector can be rotated horizontally about its center, giving the effect of facing the four cardinal directions and so successively showing the northern, eastern, western and southern skies.

The projector is penetrated by small holes. A flashlight bulb inside the projector furnishes the star light. The foot-long projector may be revolved so that it throws into the half-dome scientifically exact representations of 850 stars and more than 50 constellations.

Portraits of Royalty Bequeathed to England

London.—Four thousand photographs of members of all the royal families of Europe, collected by Mrs. Thomas Brocklebank, now eighty years old, are to be left to England. Despite her age, Mrs. Brocklebank spends her time between her two homes in London and Florence, adding constantly to her collection at the rate of between 100 and 200 portraits a year.

The collection fills scores of huge volumes. There is no other assembly of pictures like it in the world, for it includes also the family trees of its subjects.

He Pays His Interest With Pinch of Cotton

Muskogee, Okla.—The problem of computing interest on a seven-cent loan due the Federal Seed loan office, baffled E. P. Roberts, a farmer.

A banker advised him that 3 per cent interest on the seven cents since 1931 was four and one-third mills. His cotton dealer suggested payment be made in kind and revealed that one ounce of cotton was worth four and one-third mills.

So Roberts wrapped the seven cents in an ounce of cotton and mailed it to his creditor.

Rubber Mace Used for Police Sticks

Indianapolis.—The policeman's "billy club" has been replaced by the rubber mace here because it costs considerably less and a blow from it does not mar the features.

The mace, according to Michael F. Morrissey, chief of police, is a flat piece of rubber, rectangular in shape and containing a slot through which the fingers of the hand may be slipped to obtain a grip.

It delivers a stunning slap, but if more force is needed, its edge may be used with as much effectiveness as the old-time club, now in universal use.

The mace costs only 6 cents as compared with $4.50 for the regulation "copper's stick," Morrissey said.

MENTAL ALERTNESS Requires Physical Fitness

A spike cannot be driven with a tackhammer. Neither can a brilliant mind do its best work in an infirm body. Mental ability requires physical fitness in order that it may be of any value to the world or to the individual.

Physical fitness depends on natural living and intelligent care of the spine. Nerve congestion at the spine is the most frequent cause of disease—a cause correctible by Chiropractic. This nerve congestion at the spine, which slows up the functions of the mind and body, is often found to affect the liver, and the logical and scientific way to overcome it is through Chiropractic.

No chain can be stronger than its weakest link. Just so, your health can be no stronger than its weakest organ. If your liver is developing a weakness and sluggishness and is out of harmony with the rest of the body, it is but a matter of time before serious ill health may overtake you.

Health Follows Chiropractic Corrects Pressure on Spinal Nerves in Diseases of the Following Organs:

HEAD EYES EARS NOSE THROAT ARMS HEART LUNGS LIVER STOMACH PANCREAS SPLEEN KIDNEYS BOWELS APPENDIX BLADDER SPINAL CORD LOWER LIMBS

TROUBLED FOR YEARS. "I had liver trouble for years. Medical help and medicines failed to bring relief. Instead of getting better, my condition became worse. I finally tried Chiropractic, and after a series of Chiropractic treatments, I improved so wonderfully that my family and myself are very thankful. I recommend Chiropractic to every sufferer." Mrs. Theresa Greenstead, Chiropractic Research Bureau Station No. 2279-S.

PHONE 776 FOR APPOINTMENT.

Our success is due to our policy of never accepting cases that we cannot handle.

In addition to the training received at the world's most prominent Chiropractic university, and supplemented by seven years' actual practice and observation, we have originated and are using our own system of business adjustment which is a distinct advance over methods commonly in use.
